Hi Ravi, thanks for following up with Catherine (I feel like I bug her 1-2 times a week, so it is good for her to hear from someone else).

I am fine with what you suggest.

I attended the NRC pre-meeting today and it was quick (15 minutes). I wanted to get a sense for how Vince was preparing the experts since I have not been at any of these meetings with outside scientists.

Catherine's response. I plan to tell her to insert those comment boxes first and then come back to them. (And that it would be good if done in a few days.) Since I have to leave shortly it will be a couple of hours before I send that note. So let me know in case you prefer otherwise.

By the way, I should have told you, but I did not see the point of all three of us attending today's planning meeting with discussants, and hence did not attend. We all have too much to do.

Hi Ravi, sorry, working from home today. I think since most of my work will go into the supplemental information draft, I could simply insert comment boxes where I plan to add draft text. Sorry I should have been working on that part first instead of the suppl info, perhaps? It seemed easier and more logical to tackle the suppl info first. I am HOPING I'm only a few days away from finishing, but I hate to make this promise since I haven't been good about keeping to my timelines. However, a deadline like that might help me pull up to the finish line. I'm going to do my best to have this done in a couple of days—completely done. Thanks!
